JWU Alumni NEWS

OCTOBER 2014

Welcome to the first edition of the JWU Alumni Newsletter! Full of exciting news and links, this will be a great way for alumni like you to stay current on all things Johnson & Wales. Look for a new edition in your inbox each quarter and send us feedback anytime!

Happy 100th Birthday, JWU!

Johnson & Wales has achieved something few prestigious universities have - we've been educating America's citizens for a century. Take a look back at our roots and glimpse where we're going in the future as we celebrate this extraordinary milestone.

Providence Campus Wins What's Right about RI Award

In recognition of its contributions to the local community and to the state of Rhode Island, JWU Providence has been presented with the What's Right about RI award.

Farewell, President Chant

After 22 years of service at JWU, North Miami Campus President Loreen Chant '89 has left the university. She leaves a legacy of leadership that created and built the campus into the thriving place it is today.

Big Changes in Denver

The Denver Campus is experiencing a lot of improvements - to buildings, technology and degree programs - and they're having fun in the process! Read about a national historic landmark, cracking a very old safe, building changes, a time capsule, and new majors.

Charlotte Celebrates 10th Anniversary

JWU Charlotte, the university's youngest campus, is ten years old. Learn about the campus' beginnings, what it offers today and its impact on the area.

Recruiter Networking & Social Media Seminar Rock NYC

This summer, JWU Alumni held a fantastic event on New York City's High Line. Click through to see a spectacular presentation on the personal brand you develop through social media and for an opportunity to network with recruiters.

International Admissions Ambassadors Wanted

Are you an alum living outside of the US? If so, Johnson & Wales wants your help! Find out how you can help recruit students in your country and spread the word about a JWU education.
